

FIVE GO TO SMUGGLER'S TOP

This is the fourth book about the Five Adventurers—Julian, Dick, George, Anne—and Timmy the Dog. Once again they have a most thrilling adventure, this time at the strange old house called Smuggler's Top, set on the top of Castaway Hill, an island hill surrounded by treacherous sea-marshes.

Secret passages, someone signalling from the tower of Smuggler's Top, a hidden pit, a hill honeycombed with old tunnels, strange disappearances—what an exciting story! No boy or girl will want to put it down until they have come to the last page. How they will wish they, too, could go adventuring with Julian and Dick, George and Anne—and Timmy, too, of course!

In this Enid Blyton book, your favourite author has told you the kind of story you like the best of all, about the children you know so well.

With Best wishes to Dearest Indu

Rajan
F. BOMBAY
MARCH 21, 1969